No movement has been made from this point yet. Gen. Sweeney, accompanied by Col. Meehan and a few other officers of his staff, left here this afternoon at 3j o'clock for St. Albans. It is expected that he will return to-

at this point at present is variously estimated as high as 1,500, and as low as 600. The men behave in a very orderly manner. Rations are regularly served out to three rations per day, but only two were given out to-day. Gen. Hefferman is in command here. The seizure of the arms has incensed the Fenians against the United States authorities, of whom, especially the Secretary of State,

There are rumors of intended raids on various points of the frontier in this vicinity, but they cannot be traced to any trustworthy source. It is, however, certain that the Fenians would be now in Canada were it not for the seizure of the arms.

FIT was known that a large amount of much needed stores had been sent from Troy, New-York, for this point, and its failure to arrive had caused serious disappointment. Trusty officers and men have been despatched to hunt up and secure the missing materiel. Seven car loads of Fenians arrived from Massachusetts this morning, bound to the front. Generals Spear and Mahan intend to leave for the front today.

GEN. HOOKER APPEARS ON THE FIELD.

St. Albans, Vt. Tuesday, June 5, 1866.

By order of Gen. Hooker all armed bodies attempting to cross the border are to be stopped by United States troops. It unarmed, and it is reasonable to suppose that they are Fenians, they must also be stopped. Reports are current that Fenians under Col. O'Neill will concentrate at Malone and this place. Gens. Sweeney and Murphy are supposed to be in this vicinity. The Fenians are in the neighborhood of Freleighsburg, Highgate, Franklin and Pigeon Hill. No fight has yet occurred, but one is expected this afternoon. The United States troops are advancing to preserve neutrality.

OTHER REPORTS.

BOSTON, Tuesday, June 5, 1866.

Boston, Tuesday, June 5, 1866.

A St. Albans special dispatch to The Boston Herald says that leading Fenian officers there declare positively that the border will be crossed in 58 hours. They have numerous and experienced scouts in the Canadian camp numerous and experienced sconts in the Canadian camp and its vicinity, and have hourly reports of the situation. These are such as to give encouragement, and both officers and men are sanguine of success. Their plans are nearly perfected for the onward movement, which will probably be directed against a force of Canadian volunteers, whom the Fenians regard with contempt. There are no new important developments. The advance of the right wing halted this morning at a spot eight miles from the frontier line and are encamped on level ground on the edge of a timber tract. Two companies of United States troops from Fort Trumbull, passed through St. Albans last night, it is supposed for Rouse's Point, and two companies from New-York reached St. Albans to-day, and encamped there. A good supply of muskets had reached the Fenians, but ammunition was scarce.

OGDENSBURG, Tuesday, May 5, 1866.
The Fenian arms and ammunition seized at Watertown this a. m. by the United States Regulars are now in pro cess of transit to this city. The carloads were abandoned by the party of Fepians who had them in charge. No prisoners were taken. The majority of the United States

Regulars at this point are Irish.

PROCEEDINGS AS TO THE PRISONERS.

PROCEEDINGS AS TO THE PRISORERS.

At an early hour this morning warrants were issued by the United States Commissioners in this city, commanding the United States Marshals to apprehend the Fenian officers who are now on board the steamer Michigan, and bring them before the Commissioners for examination, when it will be decided whether they shall be held for trial before Judge Hall.

It is said that the officers will make no defense, confessing to a breach of the Neutrality law.

The writ of habeas corpus was served last evening, returnable at 9 this morning, to give Commander Bryson of the Michigan time to consult with the Washington authoraties.

On the other side, early this morning, four more Fenian orisoners were brought in a and placed in the Niagara Ferry-house. Many of them met with a quicker fate as the volunteers shoot them dead when found.

It is reported that no less than 25 or 30 have been shot in the woods round about Fort Erie and Ridgeway. But his needs confirmation.

Altogether, the Canadians have about 100 prisoners, of whom 50 are doubtless civilians, as arrests were made with rery little discretion. Sixty are now reported to be lodged in Brantford Jail and at Port Colborne.

All the trains on the Grand Trunk Railroad are running regularly, east and west.

Col. Lynch's Movements.

Col. Lynch of Chicago, who assumed command at Buffalo on Friday night, left the city on Sunday night, and is reported to have taken with him a number of the Fenians who were waiting to reënforce Col. O'Neill. Col. Lynch declared that, had the situation been known at Chicago, any number of troops could have been obtained for the purpose of joining the Fenians at Fort Erie.

any number of troops could not street.

An expedition comprising some 300 men, under the command of Capt. Donohue, is reported to have left the city last night. Their destination is unknown, but their departure was known to the United States authorities.

THE AMERICAN FORCES.

Gen. Barry last night received a dispatch from Gen. Meade stating that no landing had been effected at any point in his vicinity.

Two companies of Battery H, United States Artillery, from Fort Schuyler, arrived here this morning, and other troops came last night.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The report that arms had been esized at P. O Day's store, who is the Head Center here, is, we believe, incorrect, as the only arms taken from his store were seized in the way of business by Fenians.

We can get no confirmation of the street rumor that United States Consul Blake at Fort Erie was insulted by a British officer, "or any other man."

The Great Western Railway trains are running as usual, and passengers cross without hinderance.

BUFFALO, Tuesday, June 5, 1866.

THE COMING TRIAL.

THE COMING TRIAL.

The United States has engaged Mr. Sherman S. Rogers to represent them on the return to the writ of habeas corpus granted by Judge Chinton for the purpose of bringing before him the Fenian officers now held as prisoners on board the United States steamer Michigan. The counsel was accompanied by Acting Master Morris, and they have notified Judge Clinton that the Fenian prisoners are not held by the commander of the Michigan, but by the United States District Attorney, who is absent from the city. The general impression is that the officers will be released on bail, and the men discharged. Considerable excitement exists here. The court-room is crowded with the friends of the prisoners. Col. Lowery, commanding at Fort Eric, has notified the British Consul in this city that no permits will be recognized by him for persons to visit their camp. A large number of the British have left Fort Eric for Prescott.

PRISONERS IN THE FENIAN CAMP.

The Buffalo Express of June 4 says: "The following is a complete list of the prisoners now in the hands of the Fenians at this point. They were captured in the fight at Lewis's House, in the village of Fort Eric, this afternoon. All are well treated, and appear to be very confortable: Lieut. QUIET BUT BUSY.

The Times of this city publishes a special telegram this evening from Prescott, almost directly opposite Ogdensburgh, in which it is stated that no Fenian demonstration has yet taken place against Prescott. The Times correspondent states that Feniaus are arriving by every train at DeKaib Junction, in the rear of Ogdensburgh, and are switched off to Malone. The town of Prescott is perfectly crammed with Canadian troops, volunteers and regulars.

The action of the United States authorities is everywhere commended, the recent orders issued by Gen. Meade being received with favor. Affairs in this region are substantially quiet.

VARIOUS MEASURES.

Two armed steamers are now on their way up the St. Lawrence from Quebec for service on the Lakes, having been dispatched by the Canadian authorities.

The Executive Council are in constant session.

Washington. Washington, Tuesday, June 5, 1866.

A CABINET SESSION ON THE FENIAN QUESTION.

A long and most interesting Cabinet session was held to-day, at which the Fenians engrossed Government attention. There are sundry current leakages going to show that the President and a majority of the Cabinet were earnestly in favor of energetic measures to maintain our neutrality, but that it was discovered to be an ugly animal to seize by the horns. Mr. Seward is reported as desiring the President to sign a proclamation; but a more discreet Minister thought it would be better not to draw the Fenian fire just now in that direction, so the proposition failed. It was then agreed that the Attorney-General should serve instant notice upon all United States District-Attorneys and Marshals, notifying them to "suppress" any over-heated Fenian who may be suspected of designs upon Her

Be this statement true or not, immediately after the adjournment of the Cabinet meeting the following circular to the District-Attorneys and Marshals of the United States, was issued:

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 5, 1866. §

JAMES SPEED, Attorney-General.

It is further stated that the use of the terms " by direction of the President" was not designed by the Executive to form any part of the delicate circular.

-Beoccupying Fort Erie-The Peninn Victory on Saturday-Louses on Both Sides-Recressing the Ningara-Result of the Raid -Feeling in the Province.

My dispatch having informed you of the end of the aid at this point, I have now time to give some details. After the skirmish at "the Ridge" (Limestone Ridge), the Canadian force engaged there fell back toward Port Colborne. At this time, the column coming up from Chippewa had got within a mile of Black Creek, and there rested for a short time. There being no scouts or cavalry with this force, the officer was for some time unaware of the fight at the Ridges, and was indebted to some young men who were scouring round (as much to keep their horses out of the hands of the Fenians, as to see the fun)

COMING NEAR FORT ERIE. After a rest the force went on by the Fort Erie road and came to a halt for the night within two miles of the old to-day the column moved, and, as it came near the old fort, skirmish lines were thrown out, and a battery of six guns sent to the front. This was the exciting moment.

At the same time the troop of cavalry came, by another road, toward the village of Erie, and all outlets for escape were closed. Some few thought the Feniaus would fight desperately.

was estimated at 1,500 men, with no guns, and it was known that they were led by a Col. O'Neill and a Col. Bailey, both said to be good officers; and, from the way in which the Fenians were handled the day before, it was thought they would be well directed.

CLOSING ROUND THE FORT.

Now the skirmish lines were close to the fort, and all was expectation. At this moment, two or three men showed themselves on the skirt of a wood, and a fire was opened upon them. After twenty or thirty shots, the firing was stopped, for it was found to be directed at a few roving farm hands who had the curiosity to come and look at the red column of men going along the road. I hear that one poor fellow was badly wounded.

Tee lines were now quite close to the fort, and a line of men was expected to show itself at any moment. Up to the site of the fort the skirmishers went, and no enemy was to be seen.

A few minutes before this the troop of cavalry dashed into Erie, and ascertained that 760 of the Feniaus, that is all who were fit to move, had, at 11 o'clock the night before, tried to cross to the other side of the river at Lower Black Rock, but were brought to by the gunboat Michigan. A large scow was used by Col. O'Neill to get across. In this position now lies the raiding force of Feniaus.

not to be employed as detectives in the cause of British despondent."

Considerable umbrage is felt among the Fenian circles at the action of the United States troops in arresting the invaders and taking away their arms, which they do not consider in accordance with laws of Canadian neutrality, as preserved during the late Rebellion.

Cot. Michael W. Burns, formerly of the Excelsor Brigade, has now come forward in defense of Fenianism, and calls upon his old army comrades to callst in an organization to be known as the Roberts Zouaves.

A meeting will be held this evening in behalf of Irish liberty, and the following speakers are announced to be present:

The Hon. Mr. Whaltey of West Virgina, the Hon. Tunis Bergen of Brooklyn, and Judge Turner of the Supreme Court.

The excitement among the Fenian Brotherhood in all parts of the City of Brooklyn for the past two or three days has been very great. It appeared to reach its culminating point yesterday, for hundreds or in fact thousands of men who have been more or less identified with the movement seemed to have abaudoned all meaner concerns and turned their attention to the exciting topic of the day.

Fenian movements were very active in the Eastern District vesterday. The Emmet Circle meeting in Masonic Hall, Grand st., recruited a company of 40 young men, who will leave for the Canadian frontier to-day, under Capt. Patrick Collins. The Grattan Circle, Dr. Murphy, Centor, also recruited 40 young men, who will leave to-day under Capt. Patrick Collins. The Grattan Circle, Dr. Murphy, Centor, also recruited 40 young men, who will leave to-day under Capt. George E. Simonds. Last night a meeting of the Grattan Circle was held at Temperance Hall, corner of Grand and Circle was held at Temperance Hall, corner of Grand and Seventh-sts. Dr. Murphy occupied the chair, and Mr. Hugh Shelley acted as Secretary. After some remarks by the Center, Mr. John Gallagher delivered a very stirring address. In the course of which he said that the Americans had many wrongs to arenge; the homor of a great country was intrusted to them, and they never betrayed their trust. He also referred to Mr. Clark's resolution in Congress, which drew out thunders of applause. Mr. Gallagher was followed, by William Brown, esq. late of the Irish Republic Circle, as O'Mahony institution. His appearance on the platform was hailed with repeated cheers. He said he gave in his adhesion to the present morement after mature deliberation. Other speakers followed, bonds to a considerable amount were sold, and the enthasiantic audience dispersed to assemble again at the mass meeting at Washington Hall on Friday evening.

Austria and Prassla-Speculations on the Object and Issue of the Conflict-Bismark

In the Prussian capital, all—both natives and foreigners are "Know-Nothings;" we are literally and truly in a state of complete mental darkness as regards the one great question that is agitating all minds—peace or war? Few really believe that we shall have war; and yot we all fear that we may have it. Preparations on the largest scale are being made; long trains of recruits pass daily through the streets; horses are being purchased; tailors, shoemakers, and the whole tribe of makers are busily at work; orders have been given for troops to march to the Saxon and Silesian frontiers; we are in hourly expectation of having Silesian frontiers; we are in hourly expectation of having soldiers billeted on us; and yet everybody asks—Why? best to avert it; that he hopes peace will be maintained; and yet his land is being compelled to arm to the teeth. The best of it is, too, that nobody can furnish a rational Austria said, "I am not doing anything and do n't intend to do anything;" Prussia replied, "You are arming, and, therefore, I shall arm;" Italy said to Austria, "You are the state of the fort whe altimishers word, and no enemy was to be seen.
